• Jovanni Tricerri, Vice President, Regional Recovery & Partnerships, North Valley Community Foundation.

- o The Camp Fire of November 8th 2018 destroyed 14,000 residences. It was a massive displacement of people. Public infrastructure and businesses devastated as well.
- o As a community foundation, we have historically focused on supporting grassroots initiatives vs cultivating high end donors. We had a history of working with community leaders and non-profits to help new initiatives happen so we jumped into action with the Camp Fire.
- o We raised $72 million from throughout the country to support the response effort. Another $20 million was facilitated directly to other organizations.
- o California Community Foundation was a key partner and supported a report on the Impact of the Camp Fire on Safety Net Services of Butte County, with before and after numbers.
- o We held monthly phone calls with funders throughout the country for a year about the needs of Camp Fire residents, businesses and community infrastructure.
- Our goal was to get funds out into the community without a lot of lengthy or complicated requirements.
- o Butte Strong Fund was created with an advisory group to review proposals frequently. Sierra is on that committee.

• Sierra Grossman, Sierra Nevada Brewing Co.

- o The Chico brewery is located in the foothills of the Sierra mountains. Many of our employees and friends lived in Paradise. The company responded immediately in as many ways as possible to assist in the people who had been displaced.
- We looked to our colleagues at Russian River Brewing Co who has created a beer name to raise funds for the 2017 fire disaster in Napa/Sonoma/Mendocino and Lake Counties.
- o 1400 of our breweries agreed to participate in creating Resilience beer and give 100% of that income to the relief fund. $8.4 million was generated and we looked to North Valley Community Foundation to create the Butte Strong Fund that would support recovery and rebuilding community projects.
- The brewery continues to be involved in the LTRG-long term recovery group named Camp Fire Collaborative. This collaborative focuses on housing, economic and infrastructure needs.

• Charles Brooks, Executive Director, Rebuild Paradise Foundation

- o We are Camp Fire survivors, residents of Paradise with children. My house was destroyed and our material goods lost. But we lived and are devoted to rebuilding.
- Charles underscored how incredible Sierra Nevada company was to the Paradise community.
- o It is my goal to bring back the community, to recover and rebuild.

- I connected with Jennifer Thompson from Rebuilding North Bay knowing that we needed to capture this moment of the public's attention for what would be 6-7 year rebuilding process.
- o NV Community Foundation sponsored the work and was the point of connection for resources. California Community Foundation stepped up to financially support the activities of what is called Rebuild Paradise.
- o We created programs to help people know how to rebuild and rebuild affordably since even those who were insured were underinsured. And programs to help repopulate the area, as well as identify gaps in services.

III. Dialogue about the potential roles of philanthropy in disaster response and recovery: Bill

- It's in the Gray Area where the role of philanthropy is critical.
  - o Initiating what needs to happen;
  - o Bull dogging the processes of rebuilding;
  - Supporting those who are making a difference in the ongoing recovery of individual lives, families, infrastructure, housing, and the community's sense of self.
  - o Calling City managers, Planners, asking how philanthropy & business can help.
  - o Reaching out to expertise in city design processes;
  - o Paying for planning in order to set up the preferred future and ensure community engagement;
  - o In Butte County after the Camp fire destruction on November 8th, 2018 the initial planning meeting for Paradise was January 20, 2019 and the Plan was adopted by the City in June 2019.
  - o The Rebuild Paradise Plan is the guide for the City.
  - o The process was cathartic for the entire community and everyone became engaged in the projects. The process included people displaced out of the area and on location. The church provided the space and it was full.

• What would you do different or what have you learned?

- Check the towns and counties to make sure they update their plans after a disaster since the entire landscape has changed and the rules of the recent past may no longer fit and actually get in the way of rebuilding.
- o We are still learning day to day.
- o It is really important to have a group of people who can be at the 40,000 foot level and hold the long term vision. It is easy to get caught up in the day to day only and forget why decisions were made.
- o Make sure to have other studies done so you can see the gaps and the opportunities to rebuild better and fill gaps.

- o Housing is a regional issue and with a disaster it is important to have a regional housing vision. We held a Housing Forum of banks, funders, housing advocates, city managers, three counties, and included other municipalities involved with housing-water, sewer, roads etc.
- We had an Economic Impact Analysis for the region to use to inform us of our processes going forward.
- o The Community Planning process went so well; a good design that was created by leading with empathy.
- o Important to invest in mitigation and prevention.
- o The Community Plan had three Lens: Safer; Keep Affordable; Better
- o Creating a single source of Truth. We have a Hub, The Resiliency Center where resources are offered and engages people. Make it Paradise website and mantra.
- o ReBuilding Resiliency Center-Hub for the source/truth/connecting.
- o The LTRG named The Campfire Collaborative stepped up to meet people where they are with recovery, spiritual and emotional support.
- o Camp Fire Zone Captains- go out and find people, they are people who know what was going on and find the neighbors and stay in touch.
- Northern California Grantmakers- a great resource. They helped coordinate meetings of grant makers with North Valley Community Foundation.

Funding Wisdom

- o Make sure those you fund are part of the LTRG or are involved in the long erm recovery and rebuilding capacity work.
- o Early investments into groups helps them build their capacity and reduces burn out.
- o Leverage and match challenges with other businesses with public-private and corporate resources.

Oregon Community Foundation Report-

Melissa Freeman, Oregon Community Foundation

- 1. Meyer Memorial Trust, The Ford Family Foundation and Oregon Community Foundation pooled $1M each and joined forces to create the Community Rebuilding Fund. OCF is managing the fund, but the three foundations are designing it together. OCF is raising money for the fund.
- 2. The Community Rebuilding Fund will have a three-phase approach to supporting Oregon communities recovering from wildfires. Information will be available and announced mid- February. A Town Hall will occur on Feb. 17 from 12-1:30 p.m.
- 3. Since September, OCF donors have directed $1.7 million in grants to communities in eight counties impacted by wildfires.
- 4. $500,000 of those funds went specifically to nonprofits in Jackson County.
